

South Carolina Rural Water Association's Annual Sporting Clays Fun Shoot
September 15, 2008
Backwoods Quail Club
Georgetown, SC

SCRWA's 7th Annual Sporting Clays Fun Shoot will be held September 15, 2008 at the Backwoods Quail Club located near Georgetown, SC.

The National Sporting Clays Association has rated Backwoods Quail Club as one of the top sporting clay courses in the southeast. The shooting course will provide a challenge for the expert to the beginner and everyone in between. This event has become one of the most popular events SCRWA holds. Even if you don't want to shoot, you can come and watch and enjoy lunch. See the registration form for more information. The cost of the event is $70, which includes the shoot, lunch and prizes. Those who want to just come and watch and have lunch the cost is $25.

The shoot begins at 9:00 am.

Each person participating in the Sporting Clays Fun Shoot must bring his or her own shotgun (12 or 20 gauge), shotgun shells, and eye and hearing protection.
